

Announcing the UBC Global Masters 2021 – 2022
Postgraduate competition:

An exceptional
life changing experience'
– starts
Jan 2022

Helping postgraduates
achieve their personal career aspirations

UBC Global Masters will help your postgraduates to:

- Develop the core skills and leadership competencies that every global manager needs, building new skill sets and enhancing existing expertise.
- Test initiative, stimulate creativity, demand energy, intellect and enthusiasm.
- Encourage Team-working: being a postgraduate student can be isolating and putting postgrads together in a team / group can be seen as beneficial in itself.
- Build increased confidence and polished communication as individuals work in their teams refining and applying their analytical, negotiation and influencing skills.
- Support entrepreneurial innovators enabling them to formulate, develop, and commercialise their ideas.
- Provide networking / build relationships: the UBC Global Masters provides the opportunity to network, share experience and learning as well as building relationships with other postgrads from across the university and, in the latter stages of the competition, from other universities.
